Dear Sir(s);

This case is one in which the "monopolistic" practices are better for the public.

With my newest computer at home, without the benefit of fax software bundled in, I have had a comedy of errors of purchasing and installing separate fax capability.

This situation reminds me of the monopoly previously enjoyed by AT&T in the phone industry. I do believe that we were all better off with one giant entity.

Bring back the good old days! Please allow Microsoft do what they do best.

Sincerely,

Dr. Peter J. Szakacs
